Class Prophecy

Stanley B. Ecker.

The Illinois Electric Flyer, north bound to the city, was making up time. Spotless boulevards and palatial residences blurred past the windows of the luxurious Salon Car. At one of the windows, a blonde, heavy-set man, a little past middle age, looked up from the book he had been reading and stared out at the fleeting landscape. How many times had he ridden over these tracks when the splendid drives of today were but the dumping grounds of a great city? His revery was disturbed by a voice that seemed to issue from the thin air overhead. "Hello Bob," it sang out, "bound for our reunion?" With a laugh, Bob recognized his old friend Prosser, seated in his 1930 double decker aeroplane. "You know it," he answered, "see you there later." He watched his friend as he piloted his machine out over the darkening lake where the hydroplanes flitted about like so many kingfishers. Then, sinking back into his seat he resumed his reading of Jean Bruce's latest "best seller" written in collaboration with Clyde Larish, and published by the Roger Combs Publishing Company.

Ten minutes passed, and a train-boy went through the car calling an extra edition that flared with a two inch headline "Harper Orders Beef Probe." "Harper," muttered our hero, "Why that's Elmer Harper, all-star guard, and President of the June '17 Class." He glanced over the front sheet of the paper and read in the Washington dispatches of Paul Bryce as Government Efficiency expert over internal Improvements; of the President's choice of Henry Schultz as his personal physical instructor and advisor; and of the appointment of Charles Winston as head of the General Staff. A great filibuster had just been closed and it was rumored that Steadman Smith, the Senator from Illinois, had consumed two dozen raw eggs during the course of his six hour speech. In the sporting section, the main item of interest was the appointment of R. Ludwig as football coach of the University of Chicago, to succeed A. Stagg, Jr., who had secured the position of Director of Athletics at Yale. A feature of the day's sporting sheet was an article by Walter Barndt on "How to keep from slicing your approach shots." As his eye wandered over the society column, "Bob" noticed that on the preceding evening a large bridal party had been given for Ellen Gleason, by her chum Elizabeth Burnham and that the Duckers had returned from a trip to the coast where they had been visiting the Llewellyns. One of the victims of a "Gold Coast" robbery on the North Shore was his old friend Taylor Crooks, and, the story had continued, the Carey Detective Agency had been put on the case. In the Political News, Gregory Phelan was mentioned as successor to Guilford Reed as Chief of Police, and the name of Clement Nance as the probable candidate for Governor. He was being opposed by Frank Hardesty, and it was predicted that the race would be a close one. Nance's campaign manager was Lawrence Black, while Hardesty's chief supporters were Edward Wilson and John Fulton. The Aldermanic campaign in the seventh ward had been won by Marshall Wilcox on the platform that promised better street car service for the pupils of Hyde Park High School.

With a smile "Bob" then turned to the "Playgoers' Review" written by the scathing Miss Ardrey to see what she had to say of the new comedy The Last Straw, written by the popular young playwright, Lloyd Smith, and produced by Hanson Harts. The play itself was spoken of as remarkably clever, and the cast, headed by the stunning ingenue, Edith Powell, and supported by such sterling actresses as Eleanor Smith and Virginia Job, was given a splendid criticism.

As he finished reading the welcome scraps of news about his friends and school-mates, the Flyer rolled noiselessly into the I. C. Terminal and our hero left the train. On the station platform he recognized several familiar faces, among others that of Burdette Ford, the steel magnate, Allen Richardson, proprietor of the Salon de la Danse, Chalmer MacWilliams, millionaire owner of the Fullstakes Mine, and Hans Bathum, heavyweight wrestling champion of the United States and England.

In one corner of the huge depot a group of reporters were clamoring about Leonard Lyon. Warden of the Sing Sing Prison, for his views on prison reform. He persistently refused to make any verbal statement, but from a small satchel he carried by his side he drew forth several prepared statements which he distributed among the insistent scribes.

Leaving the terminal, "Bob" hailed a Yellow Taxiplane in which he was driven to the Great Pier Hotel, where the Class Reunion was to be held. On the way, however, his plane narrowly missed a collision with a larger craft driven by Robert Morrison, Chicago's "Boss" politician.

Upon his arrival at the great hostelry that had been built by the noted architect, Parker Kerr, upon a wharf extending three hundred and fifty yards out into the lake, and owned and managed by James Roberts, our hero's attention was called to a huge autoplane that drove up to the porte-cochere with a roar of it's exhaust. Several ladies in evening attire stepped from the car. Among them were the great violinist, Louise Hopkins, Meryle Hauser of the Carr-Hauser School for Physical Training, Dorothy Lyons, the well known society leader, and Marion Amy, head of the great Post-Bellum Relief, with her friend and coworker, Florence Alcock.

Following the tall figure of Major General Henry Baker, "Bob" entered the great banquet hall where groups had already gathered to exchange greetings and happy reminiscences.

In one corner of the room Curtis Forbes, advertising manager of the Emmy Gee Millinery Company, was discussing the great advertising coup secured by the Dwight Teas Specialty Stores through the pictorial scheme introduced by Frances Howe, of the Howe-Kellogg company of Commercial Illustrators. Standing next to this group were the Schroeder sisters, whose philosophical works were the most noted of the day; Agnes Loomis, founder and head of the Chicago Girls' Seminary, and Marion Ellis Baum, the noted Missionary Aid worker.

Stopping a moment to exchange greetings with Thelma Mortimer, the most popular prima donna on the American stage, "Bob" heard that Frances Morgan had just come into the hall from the train on which she had come from Kentucky where she had been teaching the book-worm mountaineers how to make devil's food cake. Just then he was hailed by several voices and, turning, he encountered Wendell Slayton, our ambassador to England, Harold Nicely, Professor of Mathematics at the Hammitt-Robinson Institute, and Calvin Burton of the United States Department of Chemistry, who was in the midst of a heated discussion with Marvin Weller, the "wizard" alchemist, over the merits of corn-oil soap as compared to animal-fat soap hitherto used. Franklin Overmeyer, President of the Government Stock Yards, declared that due to the amount of meat exported and used during the recent war times, animal fat was so scarce that vegetable-fat soap was a fine thing. At this point Homer Kline said he would ask his Dad, he knows, and the discussion was ended.

When the banquet was finally under way and the moaning of James Welton's famous Saxaphone Band had started the feet-stepping, someone called for an Oski-Wow-Wow, and the dignified diners, men and women of rank and social position, broke into the rousing Hyde Park cheer with a vim.

At the banquet board, "Bob" Birkhoff was toastmaster and speeches were made by Enid Townley, the "wonder-woman," mayoress of Chicago, by Frances Dorr, Professor of English at Northwestern University, and by Samuel Allison, internationally known as the "Humorist Philosopher." Marjorie Boyden, the candidate for President on the Woman's Suffrage Ticket also said a few words.

After the banquet there was dancing. Among the dancers one could distinguish the graceful forms of Lady Frances McCarthy Birchford, of Georgina Burtis, as was, now the wife of the Count de Beaucourt, and of Dorothy Adams, the well known society leader. Lyman Huszagh, the popular matinee idol and James Manuel, the "Handsomest man in the movies" were surrounded by the usual group of worshippers, and Grace Weatherhead, the wonderful film actress, and Dorothy Brady, the "darling of the screen," were threatened with immediate destruction by an army of autograph seekers.

After an evening all too short, the music stopped, as music must, and with regrets the guests prepared to leave. Our "hero" stepping out into the cool night air, marveled at the beauty of the scene. And aircraft after aircraft soared up into the heavens, upwards, upwards, attaining, as had all the members of the 1917 graduating class, the starry zenith and the greater heights.

CLASS HISTORY, FEBRUARY, '18

We entered this great building of learning in February, 1914. Many of us had heard of the cruel deeds perpetrated by upper classmen, and therefore most of us entered not by the main entrance, but by the more remote doorways. We were led into the Assembly Hall, and there we were assigned division rooms. Our programs were made out, and lockers were given to us.

We were very popular with the Sophomores for the first few days. Wherever we went, there was always a group of them standing about making fun of us. However, we often escaped from them by darting down the middle corridor of the first floor. This same corridor afforded us a most delightful place for playing tag.

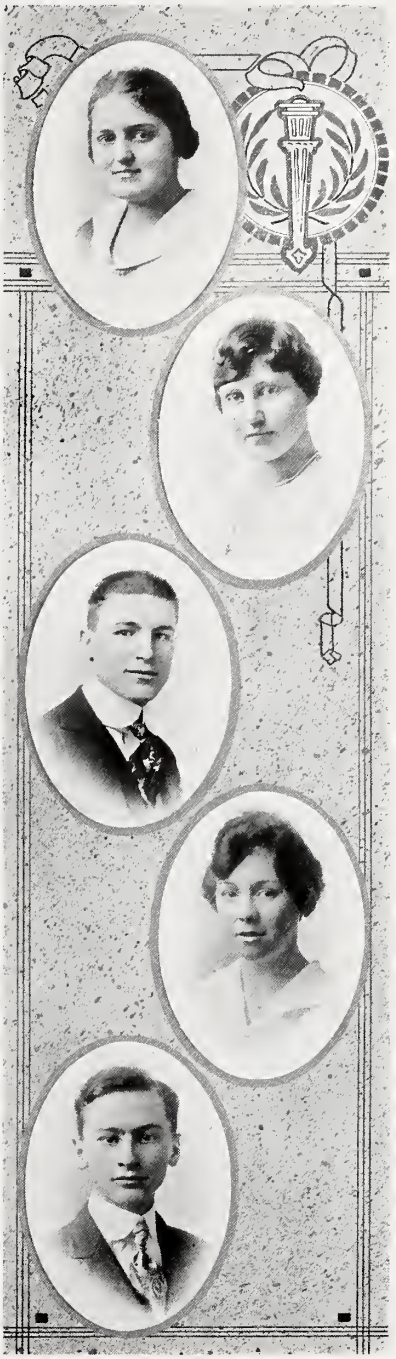

We finally graduated from the banister-sliding, tag-playing class, and became Sophomores. We were promoted to the second floor and now it was our turn to take trips to the first floor, and gaze at the beginning Freshmen. We chased them thru the same hall which had been our haven of refuge.

Our Sophomore year soon passed and before we knew it we woke up one cold February morning to find ourselves Juniors. Our Junior year was not spiced with the exciting sport of chasing Freshmen, for we considered ourselves above this common pastime.

As Seniors, we were respected by the teachers, and much revered by the Freshmen. What more could one wish? A diploma.

Charles McGuire.

COOKSY EQUAL SUFFRAGE BILL PASSES SENATE

SWETT WINS AROUND-THE-WORLD RACE FOR UNITED STATES

PRIMA DONA LOSES JEWELS

$25,000 NECKLACE GONE.

Miss Stella Wendt, the noted opera singer, now prima dona at the Auditorium, was the victim of a very mysterious jewel robbery. In her new opera, "Cinderella," she wears $40,000 worth of jewels in the great ballroom scene. The next scene is in her kitchen. Hastily making her change of costume. she left her jewels on the table, among them the pearl necklace presented her by Jerome Neff, valued at $25,000. When she returned to her dressing room after the kitehen scene, the jewels were gone. The celebrated detective, Carter Hazzard, is now working on the case.

CHUNG LUM MAKES WHEAT SUBSTITUTE

Chung Lum, the great Chinese scientist, has discovered a substitute for wheat grains. It is composed of sugar, water, sawdust, and a secret chemical of his own. He refused to give details now, but said the world would know his secret very soon.

SWETT FIRST IN WORLD RACE

SETS 178-DAY MARK.

William Swett, the world's greatest runner, came under the wire at State and Madison Streets and won the International Around-the-World Foot Race, which began at that same place. Swett ran the distance—25,000 miles—in 178 days, 7 hours, 22 minutes, 36 seconds—which is now the world's record.

FAMOUS DANCER VISITS CHICAGO

Chicago is now being honored by the presence of the famous exponent of the ballroom dances, Willis Van Pelt. He has been dancing with the daughter of the Mikado of Japan this winter, and is now returning to New York, where he will open his new salon on Fifth Avenue.

CHESS CHAMPION DEFENDS TITLE

Joseph Hirsch, holder of the World's Chess Championship, successfully defended his title against Harry Simonton, who is probably the second best player in the world. Mr. Hirsch won two out of three games.

EQUAL SUFFRAGE WINS

ALL AMERICAN WOMEN TO VOTE

In a stirring contest that was a climax to the weeks-long fight the suffrage forces have made for the Cooksy Equal Suffrage Bill, the Anti-Suffrage Senators went down to defeat, 64-32. When the final count was made, and the bill declared a law, waiting only the President's signature, which is assured, pandemonium broke loose in the Senate chamber.

Lorraine Cooksy, author of the bill, said, "The women of every state arenow free. Much credit for the passage of the bill," he continued, "must be given to Evalyn Cook and Muriel Van Tuyl, who spoke in favor of it."

Edwin Borroff, leader of the opposition, was silent upon the outcome. "We're beaten; that's all," he said. Frank Horton, Sander Cohen, and David Lockwood also spoke against the bill.

MAYOR DELIGHTED

Gwendolyn Llewellyn, mayor of Chicago, declared herself delighted over the passage of the Cooksy bill. "Nation wide freedom for women, and equality of the sexes is a big step toward the millenium," said the mayor.

U. OF C. GETS SERVICES OF THE GREAT LINGUIST

The University of Chicago announced last night that it had at last induced the greatest living linguist, Florence Cameron, to accept the Chair of Languages, beginning next September, at an annual honorarium of $35,000.

Miss Cameron received her early education at Hyde Park High School when it was located in the small building at 62nd St. and Stony Island Ave., and is still a loyal alumna. She claims there was more pleasure in a school of 2,800 than there could be in the new Hyde Park High School of 135,000.

Miss Cameron will be assisted by Kate Birkhoff and Janet Child in her hard work.

EXTRA!!

PANIC IN WALL STREET AS THE SCHERER GANG RAIDS 'CHANGE

Harold Scherer and his gang of financial cut-throats raided the New York Stock Exchange today, forced Illinois Coal down to 12½ asked and 0 bid; swept Montauk Pfd. from the bidding floor, and dumped 100-block shares of International Supplies until the price reached 24—the lowest on record. It is estimated that over ten thousand small speculators were ruined in the first half hour of Scherer's gigantic raid.

After the noon recess, Roy Schubert, representing Illinois Coal, came on the floor, and one of the greatest pit battles ever fought ensued between him and Scherer. Once again "The Broad Street Bandit" was successful. Schubert lost $200,000, and was forced to put up security for half a million more.

Scherer refused to be interviewed, but wise speculators estimate his winnings for today close on to fifteen hundred thousand dollars.

CLIFFORD ELECTED

The Seventh Ward election scrap has at last been decided by the Illinois Supreme Court. Mary Clifford was allowed a plurality of 2,324 over May Clark and Hazel Blair, her opponents. She will take her seat next week.

VIOLINIST CHARMS HEARERS

Mary Hayes, giving a recital in the Auditorium Concert Hall last night, completely enthralled her audience by her masterly skill. Under her fingers, the violin seemed a living thing, throbbing, weeping, laughing. Her hearers were much pleased.

Miss Hayes is now a member of the Royal Arts Academy. She is ranked as the best violinist in the United States.

"My success," she said, "is due to my early training in the Hyde Park High School orchestra."

SPORTS

Baseball

Hyde Park 26; Englewood, 0.

The Hyde Park baseball team defeated Englewood by a score of 26-0. This makes Hyde Park's fifteenth consecutive shutout victory. She has won the championship of the West, Central West, East, and South, and there is some talk of challenging the winner of the world's series.

WATCH THE COUNCIL!

Arthur Windett, 6th ward candidate for alderman, warned the people of Chicago in a speech last night that the City Council was planning to give a 99-year lease and franchise to the Inter-State Aero Co., giving them Grant Park for a landing station for their 'planes. He said that Mansur Kelly, president of the company, had secretly bribed ten aldermen to vote for the franchise.

Grant Park's landing facilities belong to the people for their use. The loop affords no other place for aeroplanes to land. Watch your counell! Don't let them pass that bill!

BUSHNELL TO COACH HYDE PARK

Elbert Bushnell, all-American forward for the Yale University basket ball team, has accepted a position as basket ball coach at Hyde Park.

ATHLETICS

Heavyweight Football

The Heavyweight Football team of 1916 started work under the direction of "Butch" Scanlon with material that fulfilled all their expectations. The first game with La Grange, defeating them 27-0, gave Hyde Park a promising start. The next game was with Senn who thought that Hyde Parkers were "wrist watch" boys and easily defeated. They changed their mind after losing 14-0. Our next game was with Hammond and it was close, but we won, 7-6.

Our first league game was with Englewood and the odds were against us, but the fighting spirit of the players and the support given by the school brought us out on the high side of a score of 7-0. McGrath made the only touchdown and "Red" Ludwig gained more ground than the whole Englewood team. Everyone on the team starred. Harrison was the next school to fall before Hyde Park with a defeat of 20-7. After we had fought hard for two games, we found that one of our players was ineligible and we had to forfeit the championship that was nearly ours to Englewood. We played our last league game against Wendell Phillips and defeated them 23-3.

The last city game was with University High, our Midway rival, and we are still undefeated. After Englewood had won the Cook County championship we offered to play them for the title, but were refused.

Thanksgiving Day we traveled to Louisville, Ky., and defeated the team there by a score of 14-13, before a crowd of 10,000. Ludwig and Murphy were the stars of the game.

The Hyde Parkers who were awarded all Cook County positions were Captain Harper, and Roland Ludwig. Charles McGuire was given a place on the second all Cook County team. G. Read, W. Ducker, Harper and Ludwig were given positions on the City High School team. The school deserves credit for the support given at every game.

Last but not least, too much cannot be said of our coach, "Butch" Scanlon, who deserves all the credit for the fine work of the team. Here's to the team of 1917 with Edgar Murphy as captain, and may they work loyally for Hyde Park and not be only undefeated, but champions.

Lightweight Football

Early in September, Captain Colwell sent out a call for football men. A squad of about forty boys were out to welcome Butch Scanlon the night he took charge.

The prospects were bright with the fast, hard-hitting backfield of Colwell, Reed, Schultz, and Jacobsen back from last year. The main part of a perfect line answered the call with Halliday at center, Andrew and Stracken at tackles, Whetstone at a guard and Fenton at an end. Kline and Simmons won places at end and guard respectively. Gerald Kelly, whose death all his friends and associates most sincerely regret, displaced Halliday at center for about fifty per cent of the quarters. "Whitey" Kaleher and Horton deserve a great deal of credit for their work.

Our first league game was with Bowen. The playing of Reed and Schultze was the feature of the game. Jacobsen twisted his ankle and gave place to Kaleher. The final count was forty-five to nothing. The following week the team lost to Parker by a score of 7-6. Our next game was a victory of 37-0 over Harrison. The Phillips game was rather close. The score was 51-0. The Tilden game was forfeited to us as they did not have enough men under weight to play.

Butch Scanlon cannot be thanked enough for the time and energy he gave to the boys. It was not his fault that Hyde Park did not put a lightweight banner in the Hall. It was the combination of hard luck and overconfidence in the Parker game.

Whetstone was elected next year's captain, and with his ability and the material that is back from this year, he is almost certain to add to Hyde Park's glory and her list of banners.

Those who received emblems are:

Heavyweight Basketball

The team of 1917 did not follow in the footsteps of the 1916 five by winning the Chicago City High School Championship. However, they were far from being what is called a poor team. Undoubtedly we came the closest of any team to winning the coveted flag, as Wendell Phillips and Parker were the only teams to defeat us. In the first Wendell Phillips game we lost by a mere 3 points while the game played in their gym was equally close. The game lost to Parker was heartbreaking. We don't like to make excuses but with Captain Birkhoff and Greenberg out of the game, and Levenson hurt in the first three minutes of play, we were under a great disadvantage.

Now, let us turn to the bright side of things. Our first game was played at La Grange. In this game we had the services of "Pat" Segal and "Skin" Williams of the 1916 team. La Grange took a beating of 24 to 19. St. Ignatius was the next victim. Birkhoff and Bushnell starred on the offense while Greenburg and Crooks played well on the defense. The League of the Chicago City High Schools started on February 1, and we won our first game at Bowen 34 to 5. Next Calumet lost to us in our own gym 37 to 5. In the first round Hyde Park succeeded in downing every one of her opponents. In the semifinal round we humbled Parker 19 to 18. Then Phillips proceeded to defeat Hyde Park, which was the first league game she had lost in two years. The following week, Parker won from us, which put us in a tie for second place in the southwest section of the league.

For these victories we must extend our thanks to Captain Birkhoff, Neff, Greenberg, Crooks, Levenson, Bushnell, and all who played with them, including McCasky, McWilliams, Powers, Lambeth, McCallum, Casey, Shepard, and Miller. Too much praise cannot be given to Mr. Cobelli who spent many of his hours coaching the boys. We wish to thank the student body who stuck out the season so loyally and cheered us on to so many victories. Finally, here's good fortune to "Jerry" Neff's five and a 1918 Championship!

Those to receive emblems were: R. Birkhoff, D. Greenberg, T. Crooks, J. Neff, E. Bushnell, and A. Levanson.

Lightweight Basketball

The lightweight basketball team headed by Captain Wendell Slayton finished the preliminary round tied with Calumet for second place in the southeastern division of the Chicago City High School Athletic League. As only two teams qualify for the semifinal round, a game with Calumet was arranged, but a misunderstanding as to the date proved disastrous to our team as Calumet demanded a forfeit when our boys failed to show up. Mr. Cobelli did his best trying to persuade the Calumet officials to consent to another game, but it couldn't be done. That put us out of the running and the team retired to watch the race for the title.

Slayton and Ford played excellent guard during the year, but the forwards against them were a bit too strong. Cohen did good work at forward assisted by Sorenson or McGiveran. Andrew filled the center position well. There were few chances for second string men during the year as all the games were close, but Horton and Wilcox were given a few trials and did well. Emblems had not been awarded when this went to press. Manager Pfau deserves mention for his unequalled attendance at practice and his good work in general. He even distanced Van Pelt, the heavyweight manager.

Bantamweight Basketball

The year 1917 marked the appearance of the second bantamweight team to represent Hyde Park. Although the team had several setbacks, it made a good showing.

The season was started by handing Calumet the short end of a 20–4 score. This victory was followed by two defeats at the hands of the strong Bowen team, but by defeating Calumet again, the team qualified for the semifinals. In the semi-finals we defeated the Medill five and several other teams, but we also suffered several defeats so did not qualify for the finals.

The mainstays of the team were Captain Kline, Miller, Waters, and Drake. Waters led in caging baskets, but the close guarding of Kline and Miller saved us many times from defeat. Drake was an excellent utility man. Bryant, Kolb, LeGoff, Neal, and Grass played well.

The emblem men are Kline, Miller, Drake, Waters, Bryant, Neal, and Manager Meyer.

J. E. MAIER

Track Squad

1917 CHAMPIONSHIP.

At the beginning of the season our track team looked rather small and weak, and the boys were at a great disadvantage as they had no coach to instruct and encourage them. But in spite of this fact the men worked hard and developed themselves into a strong, well-balanced team which brought itself to the front when they won the Chicago High School Championship.

The first meet of the year was the annual interclass meet held January 5. In this, the Seniors won from the Juniors by a margin of 14 points. The sophomores came third with 12 points while the Freshmen got but 3. Next came the dual meet with University High, in which we lost 53 to 51. This defeat was due to our pole vaulter Birkhoff, who was unable to compete on account of an injured knee.

A few weeks later Hyde Park broke into the limelight by winning the Chicago High School Championship meet held at Patten Gym.

Hyde Park also won the open high school relay race held at the first regiment armory. This is the second successive year that H. P. has carried off this honor. The men comprising this team were Clark, McGivern, Windett, Baker, Kaleher, and Swett.

Those who received emblems were: Swett—Captain, Carey—Manager, Lwyer, McGivern, Stanley Smith, Windett, Baker, Clark, Eling, Waxman, Kaleher, and Birkhoff.

Heavyweight Soccer

Heavyweight soccer practice started immediately after school began. With Fulton, Watters, Dooley, and Captain Hardesty veterans from the previous year as a nucleus, Mr. Paterson, our coach, started out to build a team. After three weeks of steady practice a lineup was picked and the team journeyed to Ogden Park to play Englewood. This game resulted in a tie, 0–0, and prospects for a championship seemed bright as Englewood was the 1915 title holder.

The next two games, with Harrison and Tilden, were won with ease and Hyde Park again lined up with Englewood. Englewood, fighting with desperation, managed to get a goal from a corner kick in the last of the first half which proved to be the only one scored. After this defeat the team went into a slump and lost to Tilden. Regaining their old form after some vigorous coaching by Mr. Paterson, the fellows defeated Harrison and gained the right to enter the finals for the city high school championship. The first game of this series was with Englewood. Again Hyde Park tied at 0-0 after ninety minutes of play. Brigg's work at center-half was the feature of this game. Next Hyde Park played Lane and came forth the victor.

Fulton, Watters and Mooney in the forward line proved our star goal-shooters, while Briggs, Dooley and Captain Hardesty were the defensive mainstays.

Toward the end of the season an all star high school soccer team was picked to play a picked alumni team. Mooney, Briggs and Hardesty were chosen to play on the high school team.

Lightweight Soccer

The team was very fortunate in having Mr. Paterson to coach them in this their second year of existence, but the lack of experienced men caused a very serious setback at the beginning of the year.

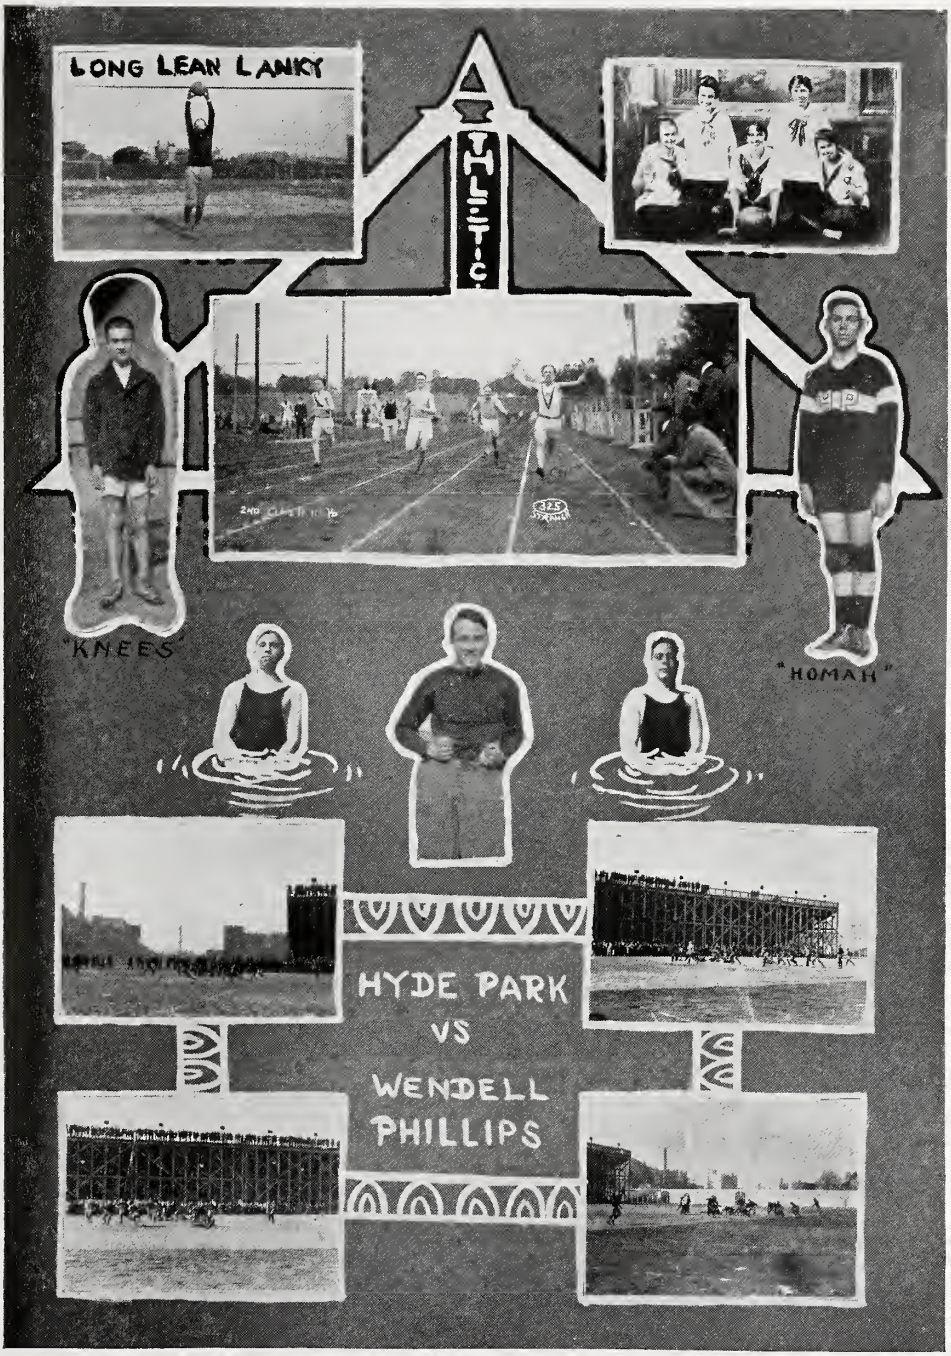

The first game of the season was played with the experienced Calumet team. We suffered a 5-0 defeat, altho the boys showed scrap and made the visitors fight for what they obtained. We followed that by a victory over Phillips of 1-0. That little encouragement helped the boys tie the Englewood game that came next. They fought all the way thru. Englewood was very good, but we held them 0-0. The fellows took heart at this evidence of their ability and beat Parker 2-1.

The second round began and we suffered a defeat of 2-1 at the hands of Calumet, though our boys showed improvemént, particularly on the defensive. Despite this improvement, Phillips won the next game, 1-0. The Englewood game was a repetition of the Phillips game, but we tied with Parker 1-1. The two Harrison games were lost. The first by a score of 4-0, and the second we had to forfeit because so many of our men were ineligible that we were unable to put a team on the field.

The second lightweight season was not very successful as compared with last year, but Hyde Park closed with a tie with Parker for third place in the southern division.

Emblems were awarded to:

Faust (captain), Diefenderfer, Hobson, L. Roberts, Bensabat, Eling, Messinger, Hill, Rassmussen, Best, Bryant, Wolfe, Thompson, Smith (manager).

Baseball 1916

After three weeks stiff workout in the gym under the direction of Coach Balantine, the team took the field for the initial game with Evanston Academy on April 15. Two bad breaks in luck cost Schultz a victory by a score of 2-1. We more than made up for this defeat by handing Oak Park a 13-0 lacing in five innings. University High came next, but returned with slow music, 19-1. We then played the Chicago Medical College, but the lack of an accountant kept the exact score from being known. On May 6 we journeyed to Bourbonnas and defeated St. Viators, 8-7. The league opening on May 8 was celebrated by a victory over the strong Parker team by a score of 5-2. The stickwork of Carr and Blocki and the fielding of Ludwig were responsible mainly for the 13-6 score over Calumet. Overconfidence cost us our second game with Parker, 4-2. We next played Bowen but met a defeat of 6-2. The return game with Bowen was the closest of the season and Hyde Park finished on top of an 8-7 score. Kaiser, Schultz and Jake furnished the stickwork to put the game on ice while Coleman was the fielding wonder. This game tied us with Bowen for the finals but a third game was necessary to decide the semifinal list. Loose fielding and breaks in luck gave Bowen the victory of 8-1.

Balantine deserves much credit for his coaching and developing the team. Heinie Schultz proved himself an iron man by pitching good ball every game of the season. Kaiser played his first year at the initial sack, but developed into a star under the skillful coaching of "Bal." The keystone sack was held down by Jake who was the pep of the team. Shortstop was filled well by "Monk" Blocki while Coleman played a consistent game at all times on third. In the outfield were Ludwig and Murphy, both timely hitters and sure fielders. The team as a whole was well balanced and except for the two setbacks with Bowen and Parker would have furnished plenty of competition in the semi-finals and finals.

The line-up was:

Kerr, Captain	Center Field
Carr	Catcher
Schultz	Pitcher
Kaiser	First Base
Jacobsen	Second Base
Coleman	Third Base
Blocki	Shortstop
Murphy	Right Field
Ludwig	Left Field

Swimming

This year the swimming team won the Chicago High School Championship for the second successive year.

The first meet of the year was held at the I. A. C. Allan Keefer was the only entry for Hyde Park and he won the hundred yard breast stroke swim. In the A. A. F. Meet, Ray Corbidge won the 220-yard swim, breaking the former record, placed second in the 440, fourth in the 40, and swam on the relay team that placed second. The relay team was composed of Kaiser, Corbidge, Levinson and Greenberg. White placed fourth in the back stroke.

In the Northwestern Interscholastic, Corbidge placed second in the 220, and the relay team placed third. Hyde Park and Harrison held a meet which we won by a score of 35-20. Corbidge was the individual star.

The Chicago High School Meet was held on March 4 at the University of Chicago. Corbidge won the 100, the 220, and placed third in the 40-yard swim. Kaiser won the 40 and placed second in the 100 and 220. White took second in the back stroke, Straus third in the plunge, and Richardson third in the breast stroke. The relay team won with White, Cohen, Greenberg, Kaiser, Pacquet, and Corbidge.

Gleason and Rubel were the only junior point winners. Rubel took third in the plunge and Gleason took second in the back stroke and 100-yard swims.

The emblem men are Greenberg, Captain, Corbidge, Cohen, White, Keefer, Kaiser, Richardson, Straus, Pacquet, Mooney, Manager. Short, Rubel and Gleason received honorable mention.

Tennis, 1916

Hyde Park probably had the best tennis team last year that it has ever had. Always represented by star players, Hyde Park has obtained a monopoly on all high school championships in this vicinity in recent years.

With all men back from the previous year, the outlook was extremely bright. As the early matches and tournaments were played off, this outlook was strongly verified by the fact that our team copped off every thing in sight. A four-man team was sent down to the Illinois Interscholastic in May. However, this meet had to be called off on account of continued rain. We then started practicing in earnest for Stagg's Interscholastic in June. We entered ten men in this meet and won everything that it was possible to win. Carver emerged victorious in the singles after a hard tussle with his team mate, Segal, while Carver and Segal won the doubles title handily.

We entered a single and double team in the Chicago High School League fall tournament. Segal represented the school in singles while Reed and Hazard played doubles. In the first match we disposed of Englewood's singles and doubles team easily. In the second round we defeated Parker's doubles team and won from Bowen singles by default. We then beat Crane in doubles and Medill in singles and both teams entered the finals. Segal disposed of his opponent easily and took the singles title. The doubles team, however, after winning the first set, became over-confident and were defeated by Dixon and Nieman of Marshall.

The following were awarded emblems:

Segal, Hazard, Reed, and Carver.

Ice Hockey 1916-17

This year's ice hockey team was decidedly a success. Because of the dissolution of the Chicago High School League we were forced to play outside teams, as well as university combinations. Initial practice was staged on our rink just before Christmas, bringing out a number of candidates besides six of last year's men. Weekly and biweekly games were held with the star teams at the White City Ice Palace in which we were victorious.

On the 27th of January we tackled the Northwest Skating Club, champions of Indiana and Illinois. After a rough, hard fought game, we took them into camp to the tune of 3-0. During the next week we played three practice games with the Northwestern University which is composed of Canadian stars. The first game was a tie of 2-2. The other two games were won by Hyde Park, both by a score of 3-1. Inasmuch as Northwestern has claims to the Conference championship—figure it out for yourself.

On February 10 we made a trip to Culver, Indiana. Culver, the champions of Indiana, was composed chiefly of Canadian students. In the rough, fast game that followed, we caged one goal in each period for a total of three. Try as they might, Culver could not get the disk past our defense for a single score. Captain Kerr, Murphy and McGuire starred. Gil Read and O'Connell played their smashing defense to perfection. This game proved to be the close of a very successful season.

The following won emblems:

Kerr, Barndt, McGuire, Murphy, O'Connell, Gil Read, Gordon Reed and Lederer.

Golf

The 1916 golf team again won the championship of the Chicago City High school League last spring. Not only did they succeed in carrying off those honors, but they also added another shield to the already large collection by winning the Cook County Championship. This year the games were played in a different way from what has been the custom in times past. Instead of match play, medal play was the system put into effect. Each school had a team composed of four men, and the tournament was held at the Wheaton and Westward Ho Golf Courses on the last two Saturdays in May.

At Wheaton, Hyde Park took the lead with 22 strokes and a total of 342. In this match every man played good consistent golf. Bone played 83, Barndt 85, Jacobsen 85, and Brigham 89.

The following week we "cinched" the championship by increasing our lead of strokes to 33. Captain Barndt played around in 81, Bone 89, Jacobsen 91, and Brigham 97.

In the total round, Barndt won the individual medal by defeating Pederson of Marshall by two strokes. At the time Barndt was two strokes behind and by steady playing he overcame the lead and won.

University High, the champions of the suburban league, were defeated by the Hyde Park quartet, June 11, at the Midlothian Country Club. The style of the game was changed at the request of University High from medal play to match play. The score was 7-4.

In addition to the honors won by our boys, Walter Barndt, first man and captain of the team, won the Illinois Interscholastic Golf Tournament held at Urbana, May 13. Not only did we win the gold medal, but also Bone carried off the fourth place medal.

This completes our list of victories for Hyde Park, but with Paul Jacobsen captain of next year's team, there ought to be a repetition of last year's triumphs.

W. VanPelt, Manager.

Girls' Tennis

In the spring of 1916 a great many girls came out for tennis, so many that they were divided into four groups: senior, junior, sophomore, and freshman. Marion Leighton was the winner of the senior division and also of the entire girls' tournament, Marcia Hinkins, of the juniors, Louise Kohn, of the sophomores, and Dorothy Flude, of the freshmen. Each of these girls received G. A. A. emblems for tennis.

This spring a large number of girls have turned out and the prospects for an interesting tournament are bright.

Girl's Basketball

The girls' basket ball teams this year were unusually good. About fifty girls turned out regularly for practice and after the short weeks of learning the game, they played an interclass tournament. The 4B girls were the champions of the school and surely they deserve that honor, for they were beaten only once by an opposing team.

The Junior and Senior girls were coached by Miss Gardiner to whom all praise is due. The Sophomore girls were earnest little players and did not need a great deal of coaching. However, they were the only team who beat the Senior B's. They were coached by M. Hauser. The Freshmen turned out in great style. Were they green at the game? No, they were not! They had played in grammar school and had much to tell the upper classmen. Their referee was Edna Bowles.

The champion team:

Meryle Hauser, Captain	L. F.
Katherine Kitchin	R. F.
Edna Bowles	L. G.
Julia Goe	R. G.
Jessica Kelsch	C.

Substitutes: K. Sisson, M. Rogers, V. Peterson.

The Girls' Athletic Association has had a great deal to do with the large number of girls who have turned out and we expect the membership to increase with every new year.

Girl's Indoor Baseball

A great many girls turned out this semester for baseball. Almost an equal number of Freshmen, Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors. Miss Gardiner coached the Seniors, Juniors, and Sophomores, while E. Bowles and M. Hauser coached the many Freshmen who came out for a good time. The games have been scheduled and will be played before the close of school. The girls who came out were always sure of a good time and will be glad to welcome new members to the G. A. A. and give them a good time. Girls who did not come out this year must be sure to come out in the spring, 1918. We will expect you—so come.

Edna Bowles, '17.

Girls' Swimming

For the first time in its history Hyde Park has a girls' swimming team. This team was organized in the spring of 1916 and a meet with Sinai was held. We lost by a few points due to a misunderstanding in the system of counting. The point winners in this meet were Grace Carr, Blanche Greenburg, Miriam Kuttnauer, Ella Tyley, Lillian Schneider and Elise Moore.

This spring several of the girls took part in the A. A. F. meet at the Hebrew Institute. Nellie Gorgas placed first in the 40-yard breast stroke. At the next A. A. F. meet at Sinai, Blanche Greenburg placed first in the 40-yard swim and second in the 40-yard back, Katherine Kitchen, first in the 40-yard back, Grace Carr, second in the 40-yard swim, and Elise Moore, fourth in the 40-yard swim.

We had difficulty in getting meets, as no other high school has a girls' team. Interclass meets have been held this spring and a number of girls have won G. A. A. swimming emblems.

EDITORIAL

Hyde Park is improving with every new year, and the Aitchpe must keep up with its school or discontinue its existence. To make the 1917 Annual represent Hyde Park as it is has been the aim and goal of the staff. With this end in view, the general effort has been to present the best material in such a form as will interest not only the Seniors, but every one in Hyde Park. The Staff hopes it has succeeded.

Everyone must recognize the work and study it has taken to make all the illustrations in Egyptian style. We all owe much to Gordon Smith and his assistants for their good work in this direction. Other department editors also have generously contributed effective time and effort. Not least does the staff appreciate the hearty student co-operation which has made this book possible. The principals, the critics, Miss Stuart, and the other teachers have the thanks of the staff for their kind help and advice in editing this Annual.

THE WEEKLY STAFF

The Weekly

Four years ago the "Lyre" and the "Bugle," Hyde Park's two rival publications, united and formed the "Hyde Park Weekly." They consolidated in order to give the pupils of Hyde Park a bigger and better paper. The first few editions were simply two sheets of cheap paper folded. The student body gave such fine support that it was only a short time until the editors were able to publish a twelve page issue with a colored cover. The paper flourished for over a year, and then the students commenced to lose interest. Last year, by hard work on the part of the staff and better support from the students, the Weekly was able to reserve a small surplus and make two or three small donations to the school. Later the publication was enlarged to a sixteen page edition with a cover. This year, on account of the rise in the cost of paper, the Weekly again met with difficulties, but again the student body rose to the occasion and increased the sales. In material the Weekly was probably never a better paper than it has been this last year.

The whole staff deserves credit and praise for the way it has worked, but Louis Dooley, Gordon Smith, Allan Holloway, Cicott Cummings, Mabel Goepper, and Arthur Swan deserve special mention for their labors. Miss Smyth, Miss Tunnell, Miss Biggs, and Mr. Sears have given freely and willingly of their time to act as Faculty Advisors. The whole staff wishes to thank them for their unselfish interest.

Senior Girl's Society

ALL READY? SEVEN FOR THE SENIOR GIRLS' SOCIETY!!

I. The members acted as sponsors for the Freshman girls.

II. They gave a Frolic to the beginning Freshman girls in October.

III. They gave a big dance.

IV. They did their share at the Bazaar.

V. They hemmed curtains for the John Worthy School.

VI. They gave Frolic to the beginning Freshman girls in March.

VII. They gave necessary articles to the Reception Room and Rest Room.

The girls worked hard and accomplished a lot in the first semester and they accomplished as much if not more in the second term. Several entertainments were given and the Club acted as sponsor to the Freshman girls. They had speakers such as Miss Vittum and Miss MacDowell to address them at their programs.

The officers are:

First Semester		Second Semester
Mary Seymour	President	Mabel Goepper
Frances Morgan	Vice-President	Marion Schroeder
Dorothy Price	Secretary	Norma Lawlor
Shirley Schroeder	Treasurer	Shirley Schroeder

Junior Girls' Society

This Club gave three jitney dances in the large gymnasium during the first semester. These dances were well attended and proved quite profitable. At some of the meetings speakers were provided and refreshments were served.

The Junior Girls' Society took an active part in the annual Bazaar given at Christmas time. The girls had charge of the fancy work booth and of eight tables in the small gymnasium where ice cream and cake were served.

Following Miss Stuart's advice this Society gave a banquet, toward the end of the semester, at the Hayes Hotel, rather than give several smaller parties. Miss Stuart and Miss Brown acted as chaperons and Virginia De La Court as toastmistress. As there was still a sum of money left in the treasury, the Junior Girls' used it to buy silver spoons to be used in the Reception Room.

The Club of the second semester gave a very successful jitney dance and several small parties had been planned when this was written and no doubt were as those of the preceding semester. The activities of the Society have not been purely social, however. The girls have taken charge of the rest room and have supplied some of the furnishings for it.

The Junior Girls' desire to express their thanks to Miss Stuart for her help and interest all through the year.

The officers are:

Le Club Francais

En ma qualité de secrétaire du Club Français, je devrais écrire un compte-rendu pour cette année; mais peut-etre vandrait-il mieux que j écrive quelque chose qui pourrait etre utile aux élèves de français qui vont assister aux réunions du "Club" l'année prochaine.

"Le Club Français" est une organisation pour les élèves de français qui ont étudie cette langue pendant un ans ou plus, et aussi pour les élèves de la première année qui ont des notes de quartre-vingt dix ou plus. La cotisation n'est que de vingt-cinq sous. Nous avons une réunion une fois par mois et tout le monde s'amuse toujours bien. Mais le "Club" n'est pas seulement pour l'amusement, ni même pour l'avancement des élèves. Nous avons déjà donne trois tableaux magnifique a notre école; "La Cathédral de Reims," "Jeanne d'Arce" et "L'Arc de Triomphe."

Il ne serait pas possible de finir cet article sans dire que le "Club" a eu un grand succès cette année; et sans remercier Mlle. Favard et Mlle Shipman de leur aide et de leurs conseils ainsi que les membres qui ont si fidèlement assisté a toutes les réunions, et les membres du counté d' administration qui ont tellement travaille pour amener ce succès.

Les membres du counté d'administration etaient:

The Art Club

Some of the most interesting events of the first semester's program were a trip to the American Artists Exhibit at the Art Institute, and a trip to the Illustration department of the Chicago Tribune. The program for the second semester included the annual Art and Architectural Club Banquet, and other interesting features.

The officers were:

September to February		February to June
Gordon Smith	President	Thelma Mortimer
Mabel Goepper	Vice-President	Helen Kellogg
Mary De Loach	Secretary	Beatrice Dailey
Arthur Swan	Treasurer	Walter Couse

The Lowell Club

Fourteen months ago the first meeting of the Lowell Club was held with twenty-four members present. Now there are thirty.

Meetings are held every other Thursday during the school year, and are devoted to the reading and discussing of literature. Before the regular programs, in response to roll call each member contributes a short talk on any subject of interest to him. These topics are so wide in range that roll call is of real educational value. The program regularly closes with a contribution from the Faculty Representative, Mr. Sears, who is largely responsible for the enthusiasm of the members.

In addition to the serious purpose of the Club, the social side is not neglected. During the fall term, a dance was held at Rosalie Hall. The second annual dance was given at the Hyde Park Hotel during the last term and in the last week of school in June a banquet was given.

The Club members have been active in the musical organizations of the school, the Weekly, and Athletics.

The officers are:

September to February		February to June
Louis Dooley	President	Robert Birkhoff
Jerome Neff	Vice-President	William Ducker
Paul Bryce	Secretary	Paul Bryce
Willis Van Pelt	Treasurer	Willis Van Pelt
Allan Holloway	Custodian	Allan Holloway

The History Club

The History Club was organized in the fall of 1916 and since then has been one of the most active clubs in the school. The membership is limited to boys who have had one or more semesters of history, and its purpose is to promote the study of history in general.

The Club gave an opening banquet at the St. George Hotel and after dinner Professor Walker of the University of Chicago gave a very interesting talk on what he got out of history.

The Club is greatly indebted to Miss Dingee, who has been our advisor, and through whose efforts we have been fairly launched on the way to success.

The officers are:

September to February		February to June
R. G. Thomas	President	M. Keliher
J. Waters	Vice-President	E. Ahern
L. Sward	Secretary	C. Eling
F. Mooney	Treasurer	A. Barboro

Mark Twain Club

Throughout the past semester, this club has endeavored to create a broader interest in modern literature by studying the lives and works of the present day authors. Of these, Kipling has proven the most popular. It is also the desire of the club to produce a few classic settings by our modern writers.

Among the social affairs successfully carried out by the club, were the Valentine Party and the Dance.

The Club is greatly indebted to Miss Biggs for most kind sponsorship.

The officers were:

September to February		February to June
Maxine Davis	President	Fay Millard
Arthur Swan	Vice-President	Ethel Allan
Gordon Smith	Secretary	Lucille Pritikin

Discussion Club

Eleven years ago, Mr. Smith conceived the idea of forming a club for the boys of the school. The main idea of starting such a club was to promote better feeling among the students by getting them better acquainted with each other. Arrangements were made with the Y. M. C. A., to allow the boys to meet there every Wednesday night and have supper together. After supper the members were to discuss some topic of local importance. Because of these talks, our fireside gatherings, the Club was called the Hyde Park Discussion Club. The topics discussed were along various lines. "Workers and Shirkers in High School," "After High School, What," "How to Treat the Fellow That Asks You to Do an Unmanly Act," and "Choosing My College" were a few of the subjects chosen.

A few years after the organization started in Hyde Park, University High School decided to form a similar club. They met the same night and ate dinner with the Hyde Parkers and after dinner they went to their own room for their discussion. Since then, many other schools all over the United States have organized just such a Club.

This Club has become larger every year and has grown more and more popular. This year it has given several interesting entertainments, such as a "Ladies' Night," "Father and Son Banquet," and a Vaudeville.

The officers of the Club for this year are Clement Nance, President, and Allan Holloway, Secretary.

Pythagorean Club 1916-17

The "Math" Club had a late start during the first semester, but has been very active since. This Club is one of the few Scholarship organizations in the school. Its members are pupils who have had the highest averages in their mathematics course. The purpose of the Club is to promote interest in the study of mathematics and to carry the subject further than the classes are able to. As there is room for a great deal of originality in proofs and demonstrations, the meetings are very interesting.

The pin of the Club is a Pentagram, or five pointed star, such as was used by the followers, or Brotherhood, of Pythagoras.

During the first semester, it was decided that the pupil who had done the best work throughout the semester should receive a special pin. Mr. Starr was awarded this prize.

The meetings were changed to once a week instead of twice a month, and with Mr. Howland as Chairman of the Program Committee the Club has enjoyed many profitable and interesting meetings.

The officers are:

February to June		September to February
Wilmar Jenkins	President	Taylor Gurney
Gertrude Vogdes	Vice-President	Charles Bartlett
Winthrop Coolidge	Secretary	Flora Hammitt

The Radio Club

The Radio Club has torn off another leaf from its calendar of successful years. In September the Club erected two new aerials. The larger one was used for receiving and the smaller for transmitting. A new receiving set was constructed and improvements were made on the transmitting set. Key West, New Orleans, and the Naval Station at Arlington, West Virginia, have been heard.

Several interesting talks have been given at the meetings and debates and discussions have been held as well. At different times the United States Radio Inspector, Mr. G. F. Dillon, and ex-secretary and treasurer gave very interesting talks.

Mark Taynton, Walter Evans, and John Born are commercial operators and Taynton has served on the S. S. Theodore Roosevelt, Evans on the S. S. Alabama, and Born on the North American, South American, and Nevada. Six amateur operators have their government licenses.

The Cadet Club

The Cadet Club was organized last September through the efforts of Theodore Reinhardt. Nearly thirty boys were present at the first meeting when officers were elected and a constitutional committee was appointed, consisting of: Willis Van Pelt, chairman, Clement Nance, Walter Barndt, Donald Llewellyn, and Theodore Reinhardt.

The boys met twice a month to carry on business, and drilled once every week either indoors or in Jackson Park. We are expecting word from the government at any date, stating that our request for uniforms has been acknowledged, and that we will receive them, free of partial if not entire expense. We also hope to secure permission from the park commissioners to organize a marine corps and perform maneuvers on the Jackson Park Lagoon.

The Bazaar

On the twelfth of December the school was alive with bustle and gayety. It was the day of the Bazaar given annually by the girls of the Senior, Junior, Sophomore, and Freshman Societies. The booths were made by the woodworking department and were cleverly decorated by the girls of the Clubs.

The Senior girls had one of lattice work with gay butterflies seemingly hovering near. The Junior girls selected a unique Moorish design and the Sophomore girls as Japanese maidens sold their wares in a Chrysanthemum trimmed booth. The Freshman, true to their class colors, were busily engaged in a green bower. The Candy Booth was made of delicious looking giant peppermint sticks. In the small gymnasium several girls from the Senior and Junior Societies attracted customers to their holly-decked tables for ice cream and cake.

Needless to say, the Bazaar was a great success. Two hundred and sixty dollars was cleared, and with this money the girls bought curtains for the John Worthy School, a pad for one of the couches in the rest room, an inverted lighting fixture for the reception room, cups and saucers, and twenty-five dollars was given to the Hyde Park Center.

The Dramatic Club

The Dramatic Club's "first appearance" this year was in "Whiskers." This little play fully illustrated the ability of the members of the Club. Those who took part were Norma Cook, Salome Patrick, Bernice Moosnick, Jeannette Shapiro, Lucy Brown, Judith Strohm, Ethel Robinson, Gerald Rock, Fryar Hutchinson, and Jack O'Connor. Each character in the cast deserves special mention but we can hardly resist the temptation of remarking about the charming bride, Norma Cook, who won so much applause from her audience. "Jerry" Rock did splendid work, too—but we cannot tell you about each individual. We can only say that "Whiskers" was a great success, due largely to the excellent coaching of Maxine Davis.

Besides this the Club has enjoyed a trip to the Essanay Studios and has given several parties during the year.

The officers are:

September to February		February to June
Norma Cook	President	Jack O'Connor
Maxine Davis	Vice-President	Fay Millard
Mabel Goepper	Secretary	Jeannette Shapiro
Arthur Swan	Treasurer	Mildred Schank

Senior Dramatics

The Senior Class very successfully presented "The Obstinate Family" and "Why Not Jim?" on the afternoon and evening of Friday, January the fifth. The fact that the plays were produced under many difficulties makes their success more remarkable.

The cast of the first play worked well together and deserves much credit. Stanley Ecker and Edith Powell cleverly interpreted the rôles of insistent husband and stubborn wife. The appearance of Mr. and Mrs. Harwood complicated matters still more. Louis Dooley and Thelma Mortimer took those parts. Mr. Harwood sided with his son-in-law and Mrs. Harwood took sides with her daughter. However, a reconciliation was brought about by the stratagem of the two husbands, and the marriage of the butler and the maid (Maurice Grashin and Virginia Job) was arranged.

In "Why Not Jim?" Arthur Swan, as a bogus count, was as successful in getting the hand of the audience as he was in holding the hand of a demure little miss, played by Eleanor Smith. Curtis Forbes, as an author, and Dwight Teas acted very well as friends of the count. Marion Amy proved a very clever secretary to the author, and her inexhaustible supply of sarcasm brought many smiles from the audience. Jean Bruce, Maxine Davis, Phoebe Sitron, and Mabel Goepper, as women of the household, all did very well.

A great share of the responsibility of the performance fell upon Miss Coone, Miss Brown, Miss Biggs, and Miss Stuart who coached the cast.

Other Hyde Park Clubs

There are some societies in Hyde Park High School, which, because of recent organization, for some other good reason, or for no reason at all, have done less good for our school than the other clubs. So, when the editor "Cut down, "it was the reports of these clubs which had to be shortened.

The Debating Society has just about made up for its late start. The meetings have been held very frequently and have consisted of interesting debates, discussions, speeches and mock trials.

The Fur and Feather Club held a very successful bird show in the Zoölogy Laboratory early in November, and closed the semester with the Annual Party given by its sponsor, Mrs. Young.

The members of the Sophomore Girls' Society contributed a new kind of entertainment, the Fudge Party. In addition they gave a successful dance and did their share in the work for the Annual Bazaar. We must not forget to give the praise due to the Freshman Girls who had charge of and managed splendidly a booth at the Bazaar although they were not organized into a society.

The most recent addition to the Hyde Park group of societies is the Domestic Science Club. It has an excellent opportunity to do good and to "make good" in this school, and if plans mean anything, it will.

A Fruit Show was the great event of the year for the Garden Club. Furthermore, this organization carried on a study of agricultural implements, took field trips, and held a picnic to bring to a close a successful year.

Some twenty boys who play mandolins, banjos, or ukeleles have banded together under the leadership of Willis Van Pelt and have reorganized the traditional Mandolin Club. Let us hope it lives up to its predecessors.

The Boxing and Wrestling Club has accomplished much this year. It has had several excellent programs, an Interclass Tournament and the Final Championship Contest of 1916.

The Civics Club has been in a somewhat dormant condition most of the year, but recently much enthusiasm was shown by many pupils of this Club. It is hoped that this renewed interest will increase, for in former years this Club was one of the largest and most powerful organizations in the school.

Girls' Glee Club

The Girls' Glee Club increased its membership to thirty-two in the fall. Now it is one of the best trained and the most noted in the high schools, as was proved by the engagements the girls were asked to fill. In the fall semester the girls sang at Fullerton Hall and at the Parent Teacher's Association.

During the new year, the girls filled many engagements of note.

This Glee Club had a very important part in the operetta "The Little Tycoon" and through the efforts of Mr. Robinson, the comedy was most professionally played. Stella Wendt, Meryle Hauser, and Maybelle Gums took the leading girl's rôles.

Boy's Glee Club

The Boys' Glee Club started practice early in the fall and rehearsed every Tuesday under the able instruction of Mr. Robinson. The first appearance of the Club before the public was at the opening banquet of the Discussion Club, held at the Hyde Park Y. M. C. A. The program consisted of three snappy songs that were well received by the audience. The Club sang before the school assemblies, the Hyde Park Center, the Home for the Incurables, and various other organizations. With each succeeding performance the Club gained more confidence and ability. The fact that a great many new members were taken into the Club, both in September and in February, made work harder at first. However, at the end of the season the Club was able to sing very acceptably. A fitting end to the season was the presentation of the operetta, "A Little Tycoon," in which the Club took an important part. Next year should be even more successful, as the majority of the members will return in the fall.

Cecilian Girls' Glee Club

Forty representative girls of the second and third years comprise the Cecilian Girls' Glee Club, a chorus that is doing good work this year in the study of attractive part songs and cantatas.

The success of the Club is due in no small degree to Leone Morrow, the President and leader; Mildred Schank, Secretary and Treasurer; and Fannie Brown, the very efficient accompanist. This Club is under the direction of Mrs. Roberts.

The Choral Society

The Choral Society, which now has a membership of about ninety, has been doing splendid work this year. As usual it is the largest musical organization in the school and through Mr. Robinson's untiring efforts has been one of the best.

During this year the Choral Society has sung many times at assemblies, has led the student body in patriotic songs, and furnished the music for the opening night of the Community Center. On this occasion it sang "Tannhauser's March" with marked success. It contributed in no small amount to the success of the annual operetta, "The Little Tycoon."

The Club certainly owes some of its success to its pianist, Edith Black, who is also accompanist for the Girls' Glee Club and the Orchestra.

The Orchestra

The Orchestra has done much in the past year towards aiding social life and musical life at Hyde Park. The members met twice a week and worked with increasing energy on their music.

This organization played at the Ray School and at the opening of the Community Center at Hyde Park. They also did much to bring about the success of the operettas "Bulbul" and "The Little Tycoon." They lost the aid of Margaret Tunison, Dorothy Munson, and Gustav Lehman by graduation in February.

If we have war, are you going to the front?

Who is a patriot?

An authority says that he who saves a dollar in these times and puts it in the bank is as much of a patriot as he who shouts for the flag.

It takes many months to make an army out of untrained recruits, but it takes hundreds of millions of dollars instantly to enable the government to equip its forces. The only practicable method of raising these funds is for the government to sell its bonds. The bulk of these bonds would have to be absorbed by the larger banks. The banks couldn't begin to buy them without the deposits of millions of individuals. Yet these deposits are not spent—they continue to belong to the people, at the same time providing the sinews of war for the country.

What kind of a patriot are you?

My whole is enough to make any voice quake.

"Got your program fixed for next semester?" asked one Hyde Parker of another.

"Fixed! Say, listen to this. I've got study first and second, I'm a monitor third, I distribute bulletins fourth, have lunch fifth and am excused after sixth."

"But what do you do sixth?"

"Aw, sixth is the easiest of all. I run the phonograph in the typewriting room."

A Perfect Day

'Tis eight-forty-five in the morning,
The rush, the scramble for class,
The three-quarter hour recitation,
The bell, the signal to pass.

The stroll to the next classroom—study,
The red-headed girl on the right,
The exit of studious teacher,
The spit-ball and eraser fight.

The sudden appearance of teacher,
The innocent gazing at books,
The silence—can hear the clock ticking,
The sideways, mysterious looks.

The excuse to visit the library,
The monitor asking for notes,
The rush to the locker before him,
The grabbing of hat, cap and coats.

The run to the opposite doorway,
The monitor shaking his fist,
The walk in the park' round the ball-field,
The unpleasant feeling you've missed.

The wondering how the time passes,
The returning several minutes too soon,
The third hour class and the fourth one,
The watching the clock-hands 'till noon.

The trip to old Billy White's eat shop,
The red-hot, the roast-beef, the pie,
The hearing Bill yell at a dollar,
The cream roll that just whizzes by.

The entering Amphlett's for sundaes,
The clinking of glasses, the smoke,
The very few minutes remaining,
The eating so fast that you choke.

The returning to school at a jog trot,
The entering by the main door,
The going to class with your hat on,
The hearing the whole classroom roar.

The reading the bulletin softly,
The meeting you ought to attend,
The homework that yet is unfinished,
The problem you can't comprehend.

The catching you chewing on "spear-mint."
The having to throw it away,
The passing a note to your neighbor,
The teacher who tells you to stay.

The fire-bells clang in the hallways,
The leisurely pass down the stair,
The crowd near the door and the talking,
The feeling the calm summer air.

The wishing you were in the country,
The remembering the ninth hour stay,
The getting your hat from the locker,
The ditching the rest of the day!

Ha!

It's the custom of Annuals to have Poetry in them, but
Poetry is too hard to make so it
Poetizes. And so I'll write like
Poetry
Without it.
See?

One day Miss
Buchanan said
To her freshman English class
"Any one who does
Not speak loudly
Will get seventy for a
Mark"
And someone in the back
Of
The room said, "Please, Miss
Buchanan, won't you
Speak louder.
We can't hear you."
Ha!

A boy in room
One-one-one asked
Mr. Riddoal
(Or something like
That)
How many sixteenths
There were in
An
Inch and Mr.
Riddoal
(Or whatever his name is) had to
Think a minute before he Could answer.
Ha!

Last October Mr. Brock
Was talking
To his history class.
He said that after
Some English king died
(I think it was Cleopatra)
They found that
He had no heir
And someone who wanted
To be smart yelled out
"Most people have
No
Air after they die."
Ha!

A hand reached around
From behind
One day and ripped
My collar and
When I turned around there
Were about four
Big
Husks
Looking at me and
Laughing. So I decided
I didn't care if they
Had ripped
My collar, because it
Was scratching my Neck anyway. But
I thought I
Would rip some
Collars, too. So
I slipped
Up to a little fellow and
Was
Just going to Rip
His Collar when
He turned around and it was
Mr. Schmithoffer!
Ha!

One day we saw
Two lockers with
Their doors swung open and
We said,
"Let's change the doors so
The numbers will
Be wrong." So
We worked for twenty minutes
Or about
That
And at last
Got them changed. Then
We looked at the Numbers
On the doors and we
Found that someone
Before
Had changed them
For a joke, I guess
And we had put
Them back again.
Ha!
